

A0702 | Leadership Assessments

Do you have what it takes to lead?

What unique qualities about you will help you to excel?

Your success in life is determined in a very large part by how well you interact with other people. Your ability to effectively relate, communicate, influence and motivate others is a crucial skill in creating successful relationships with clients, colleagues, subordinates, managers and others.

We believe with the proper tools and advanced skill set, you can overcome any obstacle you may face on your journey. That is why we chose to incorporate assessments into the YPI Workshops Programs as an option for your development.

What are Leadership Assessments?

Leadership Assessments identify and detail your strengths and areas for development. Unlike other assessments, the YPI Leadership Assessments are able to measure hard-wired behaviors while excluding environmental factors.

In practice this means that results show actual leadership characteristics in the individual instead of what he or she believes they should exhibit as a leader in a given environment. As a result, the report accurately identifies true strengths and highlights the areas where development is needed. This is a powerful tool for those pursuing leadership roles in their careers.

YPI Leadership Assessments provide new and experienced leaders with useful information to support and develop confident self-awareness and presence. The reports can be tailored to focus on leadership behaviors specific to your needs.

Successful leaders are experts at modifying their behavior to fit what others need.
